

Music of meditation

Park Sloper James Nyoraku Schlefer, left, and Brian Ritchie will play the Japanese shakuhachi bamboo flute at Brooklyn Botanic Garden's Cherry Blossom festival on May 2 & 3. The music is traditionally played by Buddhist monks wearing baskets to eschew any sense of self while performing the contemplative, meditative music.

The Brooklyn Papers / Tom Callan